(Programme Management)

The word Project has come from Latin word 'Projectum', which means to throw something forward. Projects in essence are undertaken to build future. Future is uncertain and hence risky. Global authorities have evolved a set of competencies which are imperative for people who want to be associated with this profession of building future.

International Project Management Associates (IPMA), formed in 1965 is the oldest global association of Project Management professionals focused on building skills of Project Management professionals. It has Member Associations across 72 countries. IPMA offers 4 Level Certification system covering entire career path of a project professional. Project Management Associates, established in 1993, is a not for profit society and an exclusive Member Association of IPMA in India.

PMA India has designated "PMA Cert" [a self-reliant entity within PMA India] as Certification Body (CB) for carrying out all activities related to IPMA Certification in India

Benefits of the Program

There is growing realization across Industries that competent Project Management is critical to business performance and the need for Project Management to be developed as an independent competence is being actively recognized across sectors. A planned project execution can bring down cost and time overrun to a great extent, say project management experts.

The program aims to address this need by:

- Providing a formal structured orientation required to inculcate Project Management Mindset.
- Covering key concepts, tools and techniques including PERT, CPM, Milestone Charts and others.
- Opportunity to acquire a Globally recognized Project Management Certification.
